

DISCLAIMER The information and materials appearing on The Murphy Law Firm website are provided for informational use only, and are NOT legal advice or counsel, or the opinions of The Murphy Law Firm or any of its attorneys. Each case has its own unique set of facts and issues that should be discussed with your attorney before any decisions are made and actions taken. Do NOT rely on information on this website as a substitute for seeking legal counsel. Communicating with this site does NOT create an attorney-client relationship. Reading our website, or making an inquiry by telephone or contact form, registration form, or e-mail does NOT create an attorney-client relationship. We must determine whether any potential conflicts of interest exist before establishing an attorney-client relationship. advise against sending confidential or privileged information to us. We do NOT guarantee the security of your e-mail transmissions unless your message are submitted through our secure online tool .

Some jurisdictions would consider the materials appearing on this website to constitute advertising. The decision to hire a lawyer should not be based on the written information appearing on this website about the qualifications and experience of this firm and its members. Links that may appear on this site are intended solely for your convenience in identifying and accessing other sources of information, and are not to be construed as being endorsed by or affiliated with our office. The Murphy Law Firm in no way seeks to use this website in any way as to represent anyone in a state where this site may fail to comply with the laws and ethical requirements of that state.